

Anglo-Saxon Treasure Necklace

By Baroness Kaleeb the Green Eyed

1. Cut 22 or 20 gauge wire 12" long
2. Loop bead on wire 1 inch past the halfway mark.
3. Pass wire a second time through the hole.
4. Firmly twist the two wires together for about 1/2 an inch.
5. About 2 inches from the end of the wire, spiral twist to the center. Repeat for other side.
6. Take end of wire and "sew" it to wire coming out of the bead holes.
7. Wrap end of wire around single strand of wire until secure or out of wire.
8. Trim ends of wire and mash flat, so as not to snag garb.

1. Take a short length of wire about 6 inches with a bead threaded on it.
2. Twist wire together once or twice in a loop over your finger
3. Wrap wire in a spiral once, being careful to go the same direction with both wires
4. Take short end and wrap them around the wire near the bead
5. Trim closely

1. Take a short 4 inch length of wire wrap it around your finger loosely
2. Over lap the ends like a grape vine wreath for a twist or two or four.
3. Tightly wrap the ends around the loop and trim
